NEWS OF THE BALL FIELD, RACE TRACK AND PRIZE RING.

Inability to Bat Loses Another Same-The New Havens Play To-Day... The Dumblane Club Meeting To-Morrow's Big Fight_General Notes.

The Washingtons dropped another game to the Hartfords, simply because they could not hit the ball when it was necessary and because the home pitchers were wild and ineffective. Maloney was very wild and sent man after man to bases on balls, and finally, with the bases full, forced in a run. Then Mace was put in and for several innings did very well, but the visitors finally got the hang of his delivery and batted very freely. Fagan, who pitched for the visitors, was very effective, and proved a complete enigma to the Washingtons. He received excellent support in the field, and in fact the fielding on both sides was better than in any previous

To-day the New Havens play here, and a good game ought to result. Burnham's men succeeded in taking a game from Baltimore, and gave that club a pretty tight rub for another. It is counted a stronger club than the Hartfords, and the games between it and the local team will be watched with considerable interest. Three games will

Maloney was said to have had a sore arm yesterday. Had it not been for Bader's triple yesterday, when the bases were full, the defeat would have been more over-

The Buffalos are playing like a team of pennant winners, and for once are at the head of the procession. There must be something in the climate to get good ball playing out of a team that so ably misrepresented Washington last season.

The crowds at Pittsburg are so small as to dishearten the League adherents. The League would have acted wisely had it dropped the Alleghanies instead of the Washingtons, and it will realize it before the season is even. it before the season is over.

President Young of the League was an interested spectator of yesterday's game and squeezed all he could for vic-tory. Mr. Young is as sanguine as ever that the League will win its fight against the Brotherhood, and is not dis posed to believe that the larger attend ance at the players' game is in any sense significant of the final result. John Ward's Brooklyn team is mak ing it interesting for the Bostons at the present time. Washington has not yet reached the tail end. Wilmington is at present proudly occupying that coveted posi-

It is probable the Pettit case will be reopened and decided this week. There is very little chance for New Haven to secure the man and it is more than probable the board of arbitration will order the man to Toronto.

Within twenty four hours the much-talked of fight between George North-edge and Billy McMillan for the cham-pionship of the District and Maryland and a stake of $500 with an added purse of $350, will be decided. The articles of agreement call for the fight to come off to-morrow, some time be-tween 10 a.m. and 6 p. m., and the present arrangements are to have the men enter the ring about 1 o'clock. The fight will take place in Virginia, and the men will leave for the fighting grounds at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning. There will be a large crowd present as the fight has attracted more attention than any similar event that has occurred in this vicinity for some time. Both men in the pink of condition, and the fight promises to be a hard one. The betting is now even, and it is the toss of a penny to pick the winner. North-edge has the advantage in weight and reach and is regarded as a very clever sparrer, while McMillan's well-known stanima and his ability to take punishment make him the favorite with those who believe the fight will be a long one.

The funny incidents connected with the Pearl-Murgen fight of yesterday morning formed the subject for many a quiet laugh yesterday. The writer has witnessed a good many fights and seen many queer crowds, but the mob at that fight was a dandy. Probably the fun-niest incident of all was furnished by a dudishly dressed man we wing a high hat. He had placed a board against the wall, and by means of a chair had climbed up on it, and was holding on to a rafter and a long spike with his feet on the end of the board. Some individual with a playful disposition kicked the board away, and the man who thought he had a good place from which to view the fight swung from the spike directly over the crowd. He couldn't let go, and the crowd wouldn't move, and he nearly tore his arm out of the socket in trying to swing back to a place where he could scramble

The sports will have pienty of amuse ment next Monday night at the Myers-Hopper glove fight at Willard Hall. The match will be a ten-round go, and for points only. There are several other interesting events on the programme for decision.

The Dumblane Hunt Club are preparing for their race meeting next week, which promises to be one of the most successful this popular club has ever held. There will be two days' racing—Thursday and Saturday—and the programme consists of a steeplechase and burdle race and three races on the flat each day. The Marine Band has been engaged, and the the B. & O. Railroad will run special trains to the The entries for the different events are first class, and aside from the social features of the meeting it promises to be highly successful by reason of the first class sport it will

Edward Hanlan and Fred. Plaisted have been wired to row three races on the Tennessee River at Bridgeport, Ala., on May 6, 7 and 8, for the one-mile-championship of the United States and a purse of $2,000. Each race will be one mile straight away.

There was an interesting racing meeting at Bennings vesterday after-noon between Nelly S., Billie and Brown Jug. Nelly won three heats straight away in 2:40), 2:46) and 2:44). Billie was second.

The entries, weights and betting for to-day's races at Memphis are as follows:

THE POTOMAC FISHERIES,

Senator Gorman and Others Opposed to Renewing the Old Law. No further advance has been made oward the renewal of the act of Congress of 1885 which closed the waters of the Potomac in the District of Columbia to other methods of fishing than angle-lines, says the Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun in to-day's issue. The protest of Virginia land owners of Alexandria County, who were represented by Mr. James E. Clement, their attorney for the Commonwealth, made the first impediment in the way of the renewal of the act, but since the matter has been in committee other strong opposition has been de-

Senator Gorman of Maryland, has expressed his opposition to any bill in which the vested rights of shore-owners in that portion of the District ceded by Maryland are taken away unless conportion of the District ceded by pensation be made and justice done. There are fishing shores in the District whose entire value for fishing purposes has been destroyed for the time being by the bill stopping selne hauling within the District of Columbia.

Even now the probability of such a bill renders it impossible to sell such shores at sums they would bring if the proprietors were free to use their riparian rights in the same manner that the land-owners on the river outside of the District use their riverside property. The net, seine and trap fishermen of the District are also making an energetic fight against the bill, and it will probably not be reported. bly not be reported this season; at all events not in time to close the river waters to any sort of fishermen for some months to come.

LA GRIPPE'S ADVERSARY.

New Disease Called .. La Nona". Professor Ross' Opinion

Dr. Irving Ross, one of the professors of the medical department of Georgetown University, being asked his opinion of the new disease now attracting the attention of the medical authorities in Europe, said:

"I know but little of the so-called new disease 'la nona." I have read in a recent London paper several interviews with eminent practitioners on 'la nona,' which is reputed to prevail as one of the sequels of the late wide-spread epidemic of influenza. From From what I can gather this affection is thus far confined to continental Europe, and is said to exist among the poor and

"It has many points of similarity to pellagra, an affection in which the brain and nervous system are implicated to such an extent as to cause pains in the back and limbs, a girdle sensation, suicidal impulse and even dementia when the disease is complete. In the new complaint a sort of trance or sleep is said to follow an anamie condition of the brain, resembling the hypnoses known among African negroes as nelavan.

"A certain fungus is said to be the cause of pellagra, which disease is known to be the greatest contributing cause of lunacy in the Alpine parts of Italy, and as 'grippe' may excite other diseases where there is a predisposing cause, it is quite possible that the symptoms observed among poorly-fed peasantly are of alimentary origin. It is, therefore, not likely that we shall see 'la nona' prevail to any great extent on this side of the Atlantic, where the conditions are unfavorable to its development.

THE SHYSTER LAWYERS!

Jones in Jail and Others on Their Good Behavior.

Peter K. Jones, the colored Police | water. Court "capper," who was fined $10 by Judge Miller yesterday for contempt of court, could not raise the necessary amount, and is now pondering over his troubles in the District jail. The Judge's outspoken opinion in relation to the practices of clap-trap lawyers and subsidized "cappers" has and subsidized "cappers" has evidently had its effect, for there was a very noticeable scarcity to-day of those who perpetually warm the chairs before the bench and circulate around among the unfortu-nates extracting fees. The legitimate practitioners at the bar welcome this to what extent they are effected by the practices of legal "shylocks." Just as the Judge said yesterday: "Some names will be referred to the Supreme Court and there will be a number of disbarments unless there is a change."

FRANCE AND AMERICA.

George Washington's Monument for the French People,

The Washington Statue Association held a meeting yesterday at the residence of Mrs. Senator Jones. This is an association of ladies, having for its object the presentation of a statue of George Washington to France. Mrs. Stephen J. Field presided, and Mrs. Condit Smith filled the post as secre-tary. Mrs. Appleton of New York, the originator of the movement, was among those present. The ladies already have $6,000 well invested, and yesterday about $1,000 more was added to the amount. A stirring appeal for contri-butions was issued and will be freely circulated. The next meeting will be held December 1, next.

Calebrating Freebel's Birthday.

interesting anniversary exercises were held yesterday at the Froebel Normal Institute commemorative of the birth of Frederick Froebel, the founder of the kindergarten systems. The exercises were by the ladies class. Miss Ella Ruse gave reminiscences of Froebel; Miss Bessie Pratt described the "art of story-telling;" illustrative stories by Misses Lou McIntyre and Miss Maud Stilson; a practical kindergarten lesson by Principal Miss Susic P. Pollok; the "Blue Bird," a song. by Miss Sallie K. Lippincott.

A Girl Seriously Barned. Mamie Dines, an 18-year-old colored girl, while picking cinders on Delaware avenue, between I and K streets, at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, was very severely burned. Her clothes in some way became ignited, and before her garments could be extinguished Mamie was very severely burned about the body. Her burns were of such a nature that the ambulance was summoned and she was taken to Providence Hospital.

Accidental Death,

ON THE CONGO. Stanley's Lieutenants Tells of Voyaging in Africa, One of

In the evenings when we put in shore for the night to cut wood my chief, Stanley, would often narrate some of the stirring events which occurred during bis memorable expedition to relieve Dr. Livingstone, or his still more thrilling voyage through the dark conti-nent. I remember one particular occa-sion, says E. J. Glave in "St. Nicholiks," when the rising moon threw long silver ripples across the purple waters of the Congo, and the soft evening airs fanned the smoldering patches of grass on the surrounding hills into flames, which cast in fantastic relief the weird shapes of the rocky uplands and the wondrous variety of the tropical vegetation.

Stanley, dressed in his campaigning costume of brown jacket and knicker-bockers, with his broad-crowned peak cap pushed off his forehead, scated on a log, smoking his briar pipe by the camp-fire, whose ruddy glow fell on the sunburnt features and lighted up the characteristic lines of that manly face, his eyes fired with the reminiscent ces of the glorious past, held me spell-bound as I listoned to his thrilling nar-rative of the attack of '76 on the enfeebled but ever ready little band by those barbarous cannibals, the Bangala.

How this veritable armada of war canoes bore down upon his small craft: how he ran the gauntlet of these intrepld warriors to the safe reaches beyond, through an atmosphere darkened by the flight of arrows and quivering spears—thinning their ranks as he passed with a deadly hail from his rifles. Mr. Stanley was always busy, whether ashore or attoat. The top of his little cabin in the after part of the kn Avant formed his table, and I have no doubt a great deal of the interesting material which he embodied in his book, "The Congo and the Founding of Its Free State," was penned on the cabin of the En Avant.

Occasionally he would leave off writing, put down his pencil and take a careful survey of the surroundings; sometimes an old crocodile, disturbed by the paddle-wheels in his slumbers on a sand bank, would waddle down to the water's edge, and perhaps swimming toward us, as if to get a close view of the intruders, would offer an inviting shot of which Mr. Stanley generally took advantage.

We passed on, creeping slowly up stream, landing here and there to cut dry wood for fuel or obtain provisions from the native villages which we sighted on the river banks. Our reception by the natives was generally friendly; but the large, thickly-popu-lated villages of Bolobo evinced a keen desire for war, and demonstrated their aggressiveness by firing their old flint-lock guns at our little fleet as it Stanley had previously made a station here, and a white officer was at present in charge of it. The history of this post has been an unhappy one.

Only recently all the station houses had been burned to the ground, and a great quantity of stores intended for the new up river stations, and other valuable property destroyed. The relations be-tween the villages and station became very strained, and it was only after two weeks that Stanley's characteristic tact triumphed over the suspicions of these natives and convinced them of our friendly intentions, and also succeeded in making them pay an indemnity for their unprovoked attack. Stanley hav-ing called Ibaka and the other Bolobo chiefs to a friendly council, presents were exchanged and the natives promised in future to maintain peace with the white men

Our little flotilla again started upstream. We were, however, delayed a little on the way, in order that our engineer might repair the damage caused to the A. I. A. by an old hippopotamus, who had imagined this little steamer to be an enemy of his, and had made four large heles through the iron plates of her hull with his tusks be Fortunately the boat was close in shore at the time, so they were able to get her to the bank before she filled with

Early in September, '83, the blue smoke curling up over the tall tree-tops, announced to us that we were approaching a native settlement. This was Lukolela, and in the neighborhood of our landing place the new station was to be built. A crowd of natives was gathered on the beach awaiting our arrival, and as soon as Stanley landed a slave was sent through the village to beat the old chief's iron gong and summon all the head men to a palaver.

PECKS OF PEANUTS.

A Nimble-Fingered Customer Pre-sented With a Long Bill,

Yesterday a gentleman who has for years bought his morning paper at a Woodward avenue "news depot" entered the store, says the Detroit Tribune. The proprietor, besides selling papers and books, has a candy and peanut counter.

"Good morning, Mr. B......"
"Good morning, Mr. I......"
The paper was handed to him and he was about to depart when the proprietor remarked: By the way, Mr. L ---, I have a

"A bill against you."
That must be a mistake."
"I think not."

"Let me se it." The bill was handed to him. "For peanuts, $2,15," it read.
"How is this?" blustered the gentle

"Well, sir, every morning for the last four years you have taken two peanuts when you left the store. That would be twelve peanuts a week, not counting in Sunday, when your paper is delivered at your house, 624 peanuts in a year and 2,496 peanuts in four years. I have figured there are lifty-seven peanuts in a pint. Fifty-seven seven peanuts in a pint. Fifty-seven into 2,496 goes about forty-three times. Multiplying by five cents, the price of peanuts per pint, I make the total $2.15. Are my figures correct?"

The gentleman was so dazed that he paid the bill without a word.

SAT ON THE PROFESSOR. A Dime Museum Proprietor Who Sized a Fraud Up Well,

From the Buffulo Express. Tother day a museum professor came to Wonderland to show a collection of shells. He had a great idea of his own importance and that of his collection. So the day before he was to open he went up into the exhibition hall, and, without consulting the manager in any way, began carefully to measure out different places. The manager came in and asked what he was doing. Oh, he was just deciding on what part of the hall he would use for his exhibition. "That stare over there" he said

"That stage over there," he said, "won't do. It will have to be taken out. It interferes with my exhibition. The only other place I can use is that space over there where that wall is. If I exhibit there that wall will have to be knocked out." The manager, taking in the situation, replied: "Well, you see, that stage cost me about $200 to put in, and, besides, we haven't got time to take it out now. That wall refer to is the fireproof wall that the efty made me put up, and I don't know whether the mayor will let me take it asked, pointing to a little dingy corner I guess that's about your size-bat." The professor took it.

A BRIDE'S AWFUL DEATH, Her Husband Seized With Hydro

phobia Tears Her to Pieces, From the Non-York Forning Sun-A terrible occurrence has just happened at Wolle, near Sollub, in Prussia. Three months ago an inhabitant of that place married a very pretty young working woman. The other night the neighbors were awakened by a great noise and prolonged shrieks and groans coming from the room of the newly-married couple, but they went to sleep again when the noise ceased.

The next day the door of the room remained shut, and a locksmith was eventually sent for. When the door was burst open a horrible spectacle presented itself to the sight of the neighbors. The husband, embued in blood, with foam on his lips, was extended on the bed, which was torn and covered with coagulated blood. By his side the wife was sleeping her last sleep. The nose and ears of the unfortunate woman had been detached by chewing.

The breast was horribly disfigured.
An examination held immediately established the fact that the murderer had been bitten a little while ago by a mad dog, and that rabbies declared it-self during the night. The man was bound not without difficulty, soon after which he died which he died.

The Red Flag Flying. The red flag is still flying in front of the District building and the sale of property for unpaid taxes goes merrily on in the collector's office. Quite a number of eligible lots were sold to-day.

Another Special Policeman, Charles W. Thomas has been appointed an additional private on the police force for duty between Tenth and Twelfth and E and Water streets southwest, to serve without compensation from the District.

Catarrh

S a blood disease. Until the paison is expelled from the system, there can be no cure for the lostlisome and dangerous malady. Therefore, the only effective treatment is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla -- the best of all blood purifiers. The sooner you begin the better; delay is dangerous.

"I was troubled with catarrh for over two years. I tried various remedies, and was treated by a number of physicians, but received no benefit until I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A few bottles of this medicine cured me of few bottles of this medicine and com-this troublesome complaint and com-placed restored my health."—Jesse M. pletely restored my health." Boggs, Holman's Mills, N. C.

"When Ayer's Sarsaparilla was recommended to the for catarrh, I was inclined to doubt its efficacy. Having tried so many remedies, with little benclined to doubt its efficacy. Having tried so many remedies, with little benefit, I had no faith that anything would cure me. I became emaciated from loss of appetite and impaired digestion. I had nearly lost the sense of smell, and my system was badly deranged. I was about discouraged, when a friend urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and referred me to persons whom it had cured of catarrh. After taking half a dozen bottles of this medicine, I am convinced that the only sure way of treating this obstinate disease is through the blood."—Charles H. Maloney, 113 River st., Lowell, Mass.
